

To whom it may concern:

FCC, now is your chance to prove to America that you truly represent us, not the telecom industry. The internet is a crucial medium for the democratic sharing of information. It should be preserved as a public good for all, not reduced to another locus of manipulation by corporate behemoths. Public opinion on this is clear. Please, heed it and preserve net neutrality!

Mathias Quackenbush
Portland, OR